MAGIC FLUTES

October 12, 2016 at 8:00 pm, Koerner Hall, TELUS Centre

Pied Pipers extraordinaire – five flute virtuosi explore themes of light and dark in iconic repertoire by Glass, Debussy, Takemitsu, and a world premiere

Wednesday, September 7 // Toronto – Soundstreams opens its 2016/17 season on October 12 at Koerner Hall with Magic Flutes, a “surround-sound” showcase of five virtuoso flutists: Claire Chase (USA), Patrick Gallois (France), Robert Aitken (Canada), Leslie Newman (Canada) and Marina Piccinini (Canada/USA), performing iconic repertoire by Claude Debussy, Philip Glass, Toru Takemitsu, and a new work by Anna Höstman (Canada). This program of solos and chamber music for flute also features: Carla Huhtanen (soprano), Erica Goodman (harp), Teng Li (viola) and percussionists Ryan Scott, Dan Murphy, Michelle Colton and Alejandro Céspedes.

“It is extremely rare to feature in one evening five of the world’s greatest flute players, each of whom has contributed so much to the growth of the flute. It is even rarer to hear several 20th century flute masterworks spiced up by new and recent works,” said Soundstreams Artistic Director Lawrence Cherney.

In many mythologies the flute is endowed with magical powers as a force connecting human, animal and spirit worlds. Equally a force for good or evil, it possesses an enormous range of voices from ethereal to edgy.

Canadian composer Anna Höstman was inspired by the range of emotions conjured by the flute in the legend of The Pied Piper. Höstman’s own The Pied Piper for flute and soprano, commissioned for the occasion, will be a sinuous thread that informs the spirit of the evening. Full of surprises around when and where its movements will be heard, it will punctuate the other works on the program, a leitmotif for the mysterious qualities of “the magic flute.”

Many of the works on the program have special significance for their composers and performers: the works by Takemitsu were originally written for and premiered by Robert Aitken and Erica Goodman; the first work ever commissioned by Marina Piccinini is Michael Colgrass’s Wild Riot of the Shaman’s Dreams; Claire Chase performs the world’s only one-flute version of Glass’s Piece in the Shape of a Square for 2 flutes.

Here are short bios of our virtuosi:

Claire Chase “is a staggering virtuoso who plays with the cocky assurance of a rock star,” says the Los Angeles Times. Founder and co-artistic director of the International Contemporary Ensemble (ICE) and a 2012 MacArthur “Genius” Fellowship recipient, Chase has premiered hundreds of new works for the flute throughout the Americas, Europe and Asia.

Patrick Gallois enjoys an international career as a soloist and conductor with a strong affinity for contemporary music, and currently serves as artistic director of Sinfonia Finlandia.

Marina Piccinini is internationally acclaimed for her technical command and compelling stage presence. Deeply committed to contemporary music and expanding the flute repertoire, she has premiered works by some of today’s foremost composers including Michael Colgrass, featured in the program.

Robert Aitken has been described as a masterly force in the world of contemporary music, with more than 70 recordings to his credit. Artistic Director of New Music Concerts (est.1972), he has been honoured with the Order of Canada, Chevalier de l'ordre des Arts et des Lettres, and the Walter Carsen Prize for Excellence.

Leslie Newman is principal flute with the Hamilton Philharmonic Orchestra and has played as guest principal flute with the Hallé Orchestra, the Bournemouth Symphony and BBC National Orchestra of Wales to name a few.
